Overview

Ceinwen is a specialist family lawyer who advises clients on the wide variety of issues following the breakdown of relationships, including complex financial claims upon divorce or separation and private children matters. She primarily advises individuals with complex assets both in the UK and abroad and those with family trusts or company assets. Ceinwen has acted for numerous entrepreneurs and clients in the public eye who require the utmost of discretion. She also advises vulnerable clients, including those suffering domestic violence.

Ceinwen regularly advises unmarried individuals in relation to claims pursuant to property disputes arising on the breakdown of cohabitation and unmarried parents in financial claims on behalf of their children.

In addition to her legal career, she has been the CEO of a foreign investment company and a non-executive director of a US listed company, which have given her a deeper understanding of complex commercial and private assets in the UK and other jurisdictions. Ceinwen is a Member of Resolution and an accomplished negotiator with compassion and understanding for her client's needs in all areas of family law.
